Once more we greet you at the end of another school year. Convocation is over - we should say 'convocations are', because there were six of them - the results are out, even first year, and many are happy. Some of course are very sad, some are relieved and some are probably annoyed at the prospect of having to study hard all summer. You who have already achieved your ambition will sympathize with them all.

Forty-two young women and sixty-eight young men were awarded the B.P.H.E. degree on Thursday morning, June 3rd in Convocation Hall. Degrees were also conferred on students in Household Science, Pedagogy, Library Science, Forestry, Music, Law, Pharmacy, Nursing and Dental Surgery. It was a quiet ceremony with clapping only at the end of each group's awarding, but the graduates and their friends seemed to appreciate the expedition with which proceedings were finished. President Smith gave a short, pointed address to the graduates. "We express the trust", he said, "that you have not only been trained for your professions, but that you have been trained against your professions". He emphasized the fact that professional life tends to narrow one's outlook. "Every degree of this university", he said, "should signify that the holder has qualified to help solve the problems that are vexing society to-day. You will not have these qualities if you work merely in your office or in your gymnasium. You will not discover your responsibilities if you are zealous in having rather than ingiving... I pray that you will emphasize in your lives, the art of living rather than the pursuit of the means of living."

Following convocation, every one gathered on the campus in the beautiful sunshine and there was much handshaking, congratulating and picture taking. At the Garden Party in the afternoon the Student Council Honour Awards were made and we were pleased to know that two of our students were so honoured. As many of you know, "the Honour Awards of the Students' Administrative Council are awarded to those students of the graduating year who have contributed most notably to undergraduate life of the University as a whole". We quote the citations for Bob Henry and Janeth Rutherford:

"Robert Douglas Henry, School of Physical and Health Education, Member of the University Athletic Directorate and President of the Hockey Club. Awarded his Senior colours five times for Hockey and Football. Joint winner of the Biggs Trophy as the outstanding athlete of the University."

"Janeth Ellen Rutherford, School of Physical and Health Education. President of the University Women's Tennis and Badminton Clubs. Member of the University Athletic Directorate and President of the Physical and Health Education Women's Athletic Association."

The Graduation Dinner was held this year at the Prince George Hotel and was a very pleasant affair. Dave Holmes was master of ceremonies and Dr. Rae, the main speaker of the evening, gave an interesting address on "The Value of a well-developed critical faculty" with his "text" found in I Thess. 5:21 - "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good". The original Greek meaning of the word criticism, according to Dr. Rae, was "able to discern" or, as he found in one dictionary, "the art of judging and estimating correctly the quality of works of art, literature, music, etc." To discuss adequately the value of a well-developed critical faculty, Dr. Rae felt, would involve the subject of taste and suitable illustrations from the various arts. He then discussed:

1. Literature, when he urged the graduates to be critical in their choice of books, to read the best books, not necessarily the best-sellers. The six outstanding modern writers, according to some of Dr. Rae's literary friends, are Shalom Asch, John Dos Passos, Somerset Maugham, Christopher Morley, Aldous Huxley and John Steinbeck.
2. Radio "Critical listeners", said Dr. Rae, "should voice their approval of worthwhile programmes" and their disapproval of poor ones, "in frequent letters to the Broadcasting Stations or to the sponsors of the programmes".
3. Music Here Dr. Rae recommended two popular books on music, Percy Scholes' "The Listeners" Guide to Music" and Sigmund Spaeth's "The art of Enjoying Music", to help in the appreciation of music, which he said is closely allied with music criticism.
4. Movies and the Drama We should exercise judgment in our choice of movies. "Be critical of your movies and evaluate their merits and faults."
5. Painting, Sculpture and Architecture Can you express in an intelligent manner why you like or dislike a picture?

To quote Dr. Rae, "Modern living makes great demands on our time; we must make choices as to how we are going to spend our leisure. In the making of these choices a critical attitude is necessary; - Prove all things, hold fast that which is good."

Barry Loves of the graduating class, in proposing the toast to the staff, took a few minutes to reminisce over bygone days. "Time has certainly sped by swiftly - 3 years-where have they gone? Yet how can we choose highlights from such a host of experiences which have been as countless as the days of time. For each individual different occasions will be most poignantly impressed upon their minds. But who will forget those two years with Dr. Rae? Inorganic and Organic Chemistry - Though anyone who is honest will tell you that they are still not quite sure which was which. Many will harken back to enrolment in our freshman year - locker room congestion and trying to make a lecture in the Medical Building from M.E.S. - coffee with friends when ideas were swapped and all the world's problems were solved. Some will remember our hilarious 3-minute speeches in Literature and Expression. Others will relive football games and dances, Athletic Nights, and the three big At Homes we've had. But eclipsing all others was that most audacious of ventures, the Health's a'Poppin Show which was so enthusiastically received by all. No one who participated and every one did in some way, no one can ever forget that experience."

Dr. Ryerson in replying to the toast congratulated the graduating class on their success and said that before they all scattered he wanted to bring them up-to-date on their Hygeiology. Two new basic ideas have been introduced to the first and second years of the course this year:

1. The healing of wounds and fractures, and the recovery of tissues from diseased conditions was described as being a speeding up of the natural life processes of the body. This speeding up continues until the part affected is healed and then slows down to its ordinary rate. The ancients called this 'vis medicatrix naturae'.
2. A proposed health profile of the individual similar in character to the Pulhems profile. The health assessment of an individual is made under five main divisions and 12 sub-divisions of the structures and functions of the body. These are: 1) Physcon - physical health, 2) Numet - nutritional and metabolic health, 3) Senstim - Nervous or neurological health, 4) Menstab - Mental or psychological health, 5) Harsat - harmony of the above systems and satisfactoriness of adjustment of the person as a whole to all life conditions, - family, social, industrial and spiritual health. In each of the above divisions, the individual is graded - excellent, good, poor, loss of health and disease.

Lovely bouquets were presented to Mrs. Penny, secretary of the Men's Department and to the secretary of the School, by Peggy McVey and Don Sabiston on behalf of the students. One other social function of Convocation time, should be mentioned - the tea given by the graduates to the graduating class. This was held at the Women's Union in one of the very attractive, newly decorated rooms, and with lovely spring flowers on the table, the sun pouring in and the gay dresses of the girls, it was a picture to remember. A few men came but for once it was a woman's world. The refreshments were delicious.

Graduates of the present School will be interested to hear that at the meeting called for May 8th, it was unanimously decided to have an Alumni Association. Letters had been sent to all S.P.H.E. graduates and replies were received from such widely scattered alumni as Doug. Whittle in British Columbia and Henry Kuryluk in Nova Scotia (and one in between!). Among those from out of town who attended were Pat Austin and Don Smith from the University of Alberta, Alice Wysoglad and Olga Dernick from St. Catharines, Dorys McLaren from Port Colborne, Joan Christie, late of Montreal, Helen Halliday Hamilton from Galt and Ross Sturgess from Lindsay.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and make specific plans, all of which will be submitted to a general meeting to be called in the fall. This committee which consisted as far as possible of one representative from each year who represented also the different fields in the profession, has already started on its work. Alumni constitutions have been collected from other faculties and schools in the University, and the Alumni Federation has been interviewed to find out the relationship of the Federation to our new organization. The Committee plan to send out questionnaires this summer to all the graduates and they are most anxious that you answer the questions fully and promptly. The following are the members of the Committee:

May 7th was a gala evening for the Margaret Eaton Alumnae when graduates from many years gathered at the Alexandra Palace on University Avenue for their "annual". All but 6 years since 1922 were represented and the class of '22 had 7 members present. Mary Barker '25 and Winn Parendorgast '22 came from London, Bess Pitt '23 and Grace Richer '37 from Oshawa, Mary Steedman Armstrong '36 from Hamilton and Peggy Pringle Burnet '34 of Montreal was there. Miss Hamilton, Miss Somers, Elizabeth Wardley Raymer, Charlotte Keulbach Pierre and Hazel Carson Heslop, all formerly of the Margaret Eaton staff, were among the honoured guests. After a few words from the President, Molly Maw Purchase, a report on the bursary fund by Isabel Callan Macdonald and a 10-minute conversational break, pictures were flashed on the wall that turned back the wheels of time for every one. There were pictures of recent days and pictures of 25 years ago and more. There were pictures of girls in tunics and girls in bloomers, of camp life and life in the city, of demonstrations in the arena "for King and Country" and of dancing on the green

C. It was all very interesting and sometimes very funny and made a happy evening to a pleasant evening.

REPORT ON THE MARGARET EATON ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION BURSARY FUND

by Isabel Callan Macdonald

At the Annual Dinner on May 7th, the Alumnae elected a bursary committee of four permanent members and one changing member, the president of the Alumnae. The permanent members are Helen Parsons, Dorothy Jackson, Isabel Macdonald and Mary Shirton. The changing member this year is Molly Purchase.

We of the committee held our first meeting on May 21st, electing Isabel Macdonald as chairman and Mary Shirton as secretary-treasurer. On that date the donations totalled $165. We decided to give two bursaries of $50 each, leaving the $65 as a basis for building up the Fund.

A letter was sent to Dr. Ryerson, Director of the School of Physical and Health Education, telling him of the Alumnae's intention and asking that the Women's Staff choose the girls. We hope to be able to tell you who they were in the fall News Letter. When you read that News Letter two girls will have spent 2 weeks at Tanamakoon, swimming, sailing, playing tennis, learning campercraft, so that they may become efficient camp counsellors. Isn't it wonderful what our individual contributions can add up to!

On June 8th the total donations are even better. We have in our bank account $227, that is $127 will be left in the Fund after paying the $100 in bursaries. The credit for such a satisfactory sum for such a "young" fund belongs to the Year Secretaries. We would like to thank them very much indeed and to tell you who they are, with the amounts collected. Of course, by the time you read this the amounts in some cases will undoubtedly be higher.

MISS CHARLOTTE ROSS

An appreciation

The graduates of The Margaret Eaton School will be grieved to learn of the death at Toronto on April 23rd, of Miss Charlotte Ross, after services in Toronto, interment took place at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Miss Ross came to The Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression around 1906 and was with the School as Vice-Principal until 1926 when the School of Expression was closed. She was a perfectionist and set for herself high standards of scholarship. She was one of our country's noted scholars in English Literature and she stimulated the students' appreciation of it. In her quiet way she had more influence on The Margaret Eaton School policy than was apparent.

Miss Ross was gifted in many ways, a graduate of the Sorbonne with postgraduate work in Germany, one of the first two women members of the University Senate, the first president of University College Alumni and one of the founders of the University Women's Club. Well travelled, widely read and possessed of a wonderful memory and unusual sense of humour, she used her gifts and knowledge as a specialist in German, French and English for some forty years in various schools, including the Port Hope Collegiate Institute, Moulton College, The Margaret Eaton School and Haverhill College.

Her intellectual stimulation and integrity of spirit, left an indelible impression on her students. Miss Ross will long be remembered by the numerous students who were privileged to know her.

NEWS NOTES:

Miss Somers has left for her home at Dennis, Cape Cod and Miss Slack has gone to her summer home on Lake Inagog, Que. Miss Jackson is teaching canoeing at the American National Red Cross Camp, Hanson, Mass. for a two-week period. Miss Forster at present is at her home in Toronto and Mrs. McCatty is the same at Lansdowne, down on the St. Lawrence. Miss Baxter is to instruct at a two-week training course at Tananagoon for Miss Hamilton's counsellors.

Mrs. Graham, well-known to all S.P.H.E. girls for her course in Music in Physical Education, for her own music and for her sense of humour, was married on May 28th to Mr. H. A. Friedman, 121 South Union Street, Rochester, N.Y. Mr. Friedman was one of the founders of the Rochester Central Basketball Team, which rose to national fame. Needless to say we shall miss Mrs. Friedman very much.

Dr. Cates has written a book called "Primary Anatomy", which is designed especially for students in Physical and Health Education, Nursing, etc. It is being published by Williams and Wilkins, Baltimore, and will be out in October. From all we hear, if it is as interesting as Dr. Cates' lectures, it will be worth reading - and studying.

Mr. McCutcheon is in charge of the Ontario Athletic Training Camp at Lake Couchiching, operated by the Physical and Health Education Branch of the Department of Education. Mr. Lew Smith will also be there as Water Front Supervisor. This Camp is to be an Athletic Leadership Training Camp and will include work in administration, officiating and coaching and teaching techniques. From High Schools all over the province, boys will be selected for it by the principals and physical education teachers for their leadership and athletic ability, and general all-round proficiency. It is hoped they will go back to their schools and communities as potential leaders in the athletic programme.

It was nice to hear, around the end of April, from Miss Thrall who lives in Woodstock, her old home town. Miss Thrall was unable to get up for the Alumnae Dinner this year but is very much interested in all the graduates of The Margaret Eaton School, some of whom she sees occasionally in Woodstock. She saw quite recently Margaret Ball McCurdy whose husband is the new Lieut. Governor of Nova Scotia. Mrs. McCurdy "was looking forward to her new home in historic old Government House in Halifax, which is being renovated for them". Miss Thrall also had a call from Mrs. Gordon Matthews (Dorothy McMillen) and her husband, who live at 678 Taylor Ave., Detroit 2.

A long and newsy letter came from Ivy Baxter 4T6 early in June. We are sure she would want you to read it and so we quote: "I do the phys. ed. work at the 'Y' plus lots of other things when the necessity arises! And I teach Hygiene (Health) and gym at the school (Ed.'s note: This is the Excelsior School, a private co-educational school).... At the 'Y' I teach national and folk dancing, Keep Fit (conditioning exercises), some tumbling and modern dance. I don't teach softball or tennis, but I see to the general conduct of the games. I help to run camps in the summer and I have a group of teen-agers of the J.A.Y.S. or Jamaica Alliance of Y.W.C.A. school girls, which meets for activities every other Saturday morning. Last Christmas term I ran a course in Physical Recreation. I had twelve people in it including three students from the Colonial Welfare and Development course for Social Welfare workers, which takes students from various West Indian Territories. I also have helped with the judging of various Musical Festivals - in the Folk Dancing part. This is most interesting. I never imagined I'd be doing this since it seems not so long ago that I was taking part in them myself as a school girl. I have to make up the syllabus for folk dancing for one which is coming off in November at Port Antonio. I thought that it would be good to include an original composition on a Jamaican folk tune as part of the required test. I think it should be interesting to see the results when people use rhythm and steps more natural to them.

I tried two interesting ventures in Modern Dance, one at Christmas and the other at Easter. At Christmas we had tableaux, carols and scenes from the nativity and in addition Modern Dance, depicting the scene before the Inn and the Shepherds in the fields. It went quite well and the audience did not seem to mind the inclusion of dance in a religious subject. So that made me bold to try it again at Easter. This time I worked with a group of girls who had never done Modern Dance before and the response from them was very good and they were able to work through the Biblical idea quite well. The thing that I had most fun doing and incidentally most hard work was the Mexican Fiesta, an exhibition by the National Dance Group of Mexican Dances, including the Hat Dance (which we did for third year exam.). It was quite colorful had lovely decorations - stone jars, cactus and fountain among other things! The dances were suited to our people so they let themselves go. We had small children in it too. These have formed the nucleus of my new dance class. I am now getting groups of boys and girls to do square dancing together and I was quite thrilled with the efforts of one particular group. We are to have a Fitness Festival in July in conjunction with the Y.M.C.A. From now on I shall be doing some work among the branches of the "Y" in the country. Week before last I went to one in Browns Town about sixty miles from here and held meetings over that week-end. I have read with interest that there is going to be a new women's building soon, I hope it will be really soon, even though I see it is sixth on the list in an article in the Alumni magazine. Talking about Alumni we had a get together for a small group of Toronto graduates at the home of Gordon Mercer, a Canadian who is out here (with his wife) in the Anglican ministry. We even thought of forming a branch of the Alumnus Society out here!"

Ruth Christman 4T6 has obtained leave of absence from her position with the Halifax schools and expects to attend O.C.E. next year.

Elva Miller has had a very interesting letter from Elia Cooke White. Elia and small son Jeremy have gone to Accra, Gold Coast, East Africa to join Mr. White who is stationed there as chaplain with the imperial army. Tony is at school in the old country. Elia writes: "We reached Takoradi, the port for Accra on April 9th where Johnnie met us and brought us on down here 180 miles, in an African driven convoy of local busses. A most terrifying drive! We only had 2 accidents!....The heat seems intense, though in reality the temperature isn't so high - but the humidity is immense. Daylight comes around 5:30 when it's deliciously cool and one ought to be up and out. By 9 a.m. it's heating up....The Army works from 8 - 2, which makes a very long morning. After lunch all sleep for an hour - an hour and a half, and then play tennis, golf, or hockey from 4:30 - 6. By 6:15 it's dark. Being on the Equator this never varies. At the moment we are coming into the rainy season, June and July, and from now onwards it should cool off."

In the lounging balcony is a picture of Helene Luttrell (Birdie) who graduated when I did. She is an actress in Hollywood - Very pretty!....They have a beautiful swimming pool here, painted bright blue on the bottom, a great cement shell at the entrance bears this quotation from Shakespeare, "Sir, I think he shall live; he did play the water with his arms."

Clara Magder is to be a counsellor at Camp Ogema, a co-educational camp near Huntsville this summer.

High light of the Canadian Federation of Medical Women meeting in the Royal York Hotel this week was the dinner on Tuesday evening when Dr. Agnes Moffat, the President, spoke. The Globe and Mail in interviewing Dr. Moffat quoted her as saying that a surprising number of women physicians marry and carry on their professional duties afterward. Said the Globe and Mail: "One of this group is Dr. Moffat herself, whose husband, a surgeon, is also attending the C.M.A. sessions. They have two children. A graduate of McGill and Toronto universities (Ed.'s note: M.E.S.), Dr. Moffat specializes in anaesthesia and she practises at the Peterborough clinic, one of the longest-established institutions of its kind in the country."
